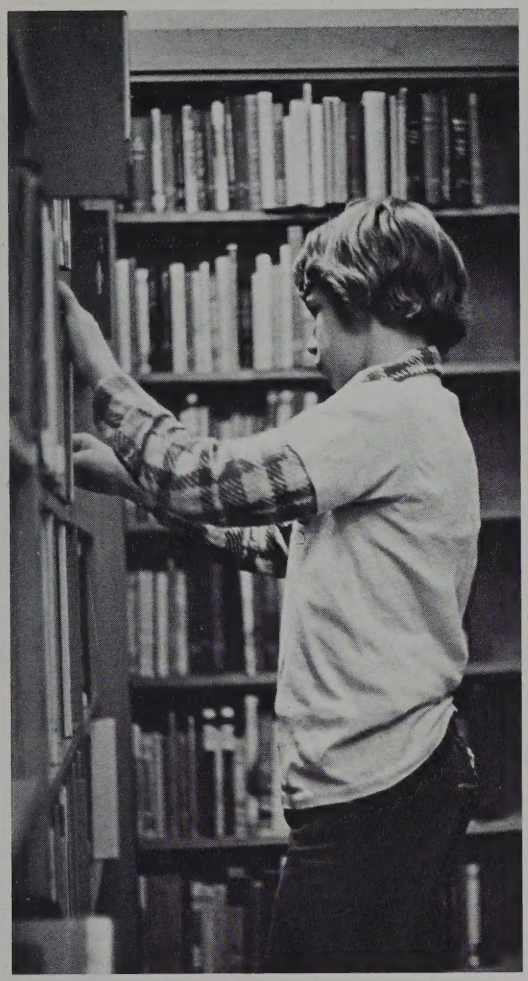
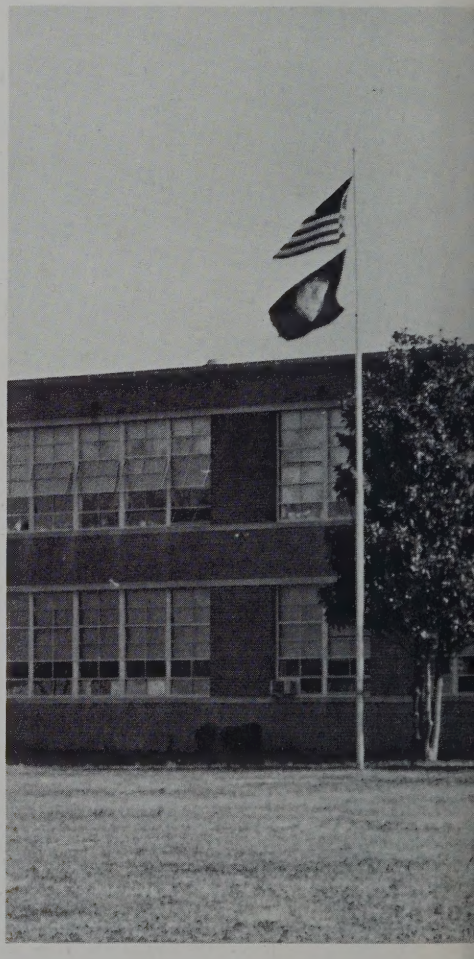
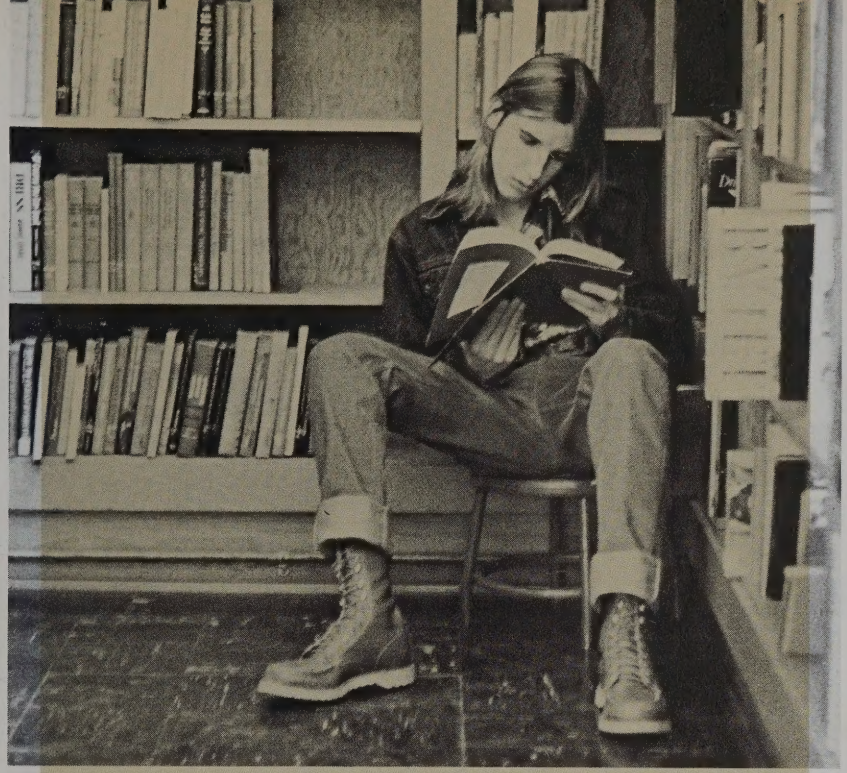
Faces — a part of your lives

Ponder the people. You have seen them all year within this building. Some are known to you by name and personality; many are your friends. Others are simply faces noticed in passing, a part of the school and therefore, whether recognized or not, a part of your lives. Follow the faces, as we follow them through the past year!







PGJHS — composed of many faces

Each person here has been a part of PGJHS, influenced by some aspect of school life. The building remains, as it has for many years, awaiting new faces. It will not be the same, for PGJHS is not a building, but the people within that building. Every year brings new people, new faces—these were the ones with whom you shared your lives.

ACTIVITIES

SCA — invaluable to PGJHS

The Student Cooperative Association is the only organization at PGJHS which has elected members. Each homeroom elects two people to represent their section at the S. C. A. meetings.

Halfway through the first six weeks members who think they will make good officers start to campaign. The nominees are chosen. The officers elected this year were Vonda Greene as president, Kathy Agnor as vice-president, Beverly Gregory as secretary, and Shauna Clark as treasurer.

After the elections the S. C. A. started working at full force. Their plans for the future year include a field day, another dance, and a gift to the school. Last year the S. C. A. donated to the school the stone benches out in the lunch area.

Beverly Gregory and Debbie Williams get the Christmas spirit started by decorating the SCA tree.

Scholarship, leadership—basics of Beta

President, Teresa Conaway, initiates new members into the Beta Club.

The Beta Club at PGJHS was started in 1970. The sponsor for the past three years has been Peggy Anderson. To be eligible for the Beta Club, a ninth grader must have an overall average of 3.2 on their final 8th grade average without any D's or F's and conduct grades of 1's and 2's.

The members of the club have a good time and manage to serve the community and school at the same time. Some of their plans for the year include a sock hop, a picnic at the end of the year and possibly a field trip to King's Dominion. They are also responsible for keeping the Honor Roll bulletin board up to date. The Beta Club is just one more reason why good grades pay off at PGJHS.

After the induction of the Beta Club members, they served refreshments and "cut the cake."

Gold Medallion—fruit of hard work

With suitcases in hand, June 21, 1976 found four yearbook staff members moving into Longwood College for a four day workshop. Upon returning to "home base", they were sent out to raise money by selling ads.

As August 29 approached and the school year got underway, the yearbook staff found themselves involved in class picture day. After this, writing copy, drawing layouts, and identifying pictures occupied the time of various staff members. Hounded constantly by the editor and advisor to take pictures, the student photographers set out to fulfill their expectations.

The yearbook of this year focuses on the faces of the student body — the faces of frustrated teachers, of struggling athletes, and of the carefree students. Although the effort put into the yearbook is the same, the "product" is that of the student body.

Newspaper — tells events

Whether you know it or not, we did have a newspaper staff at PGJHS this year. Unfortunately, due to various difficulties, very few newspapers appeared in print. That doesn't mean that not many articles were written. On the contrary, numerous articles were written, but they just didn't get printed.

The editor of the newspaper was Jackie Cerny. With hardly any help, she managed the staff and saw to it that the articles were written and handed in to her. Mrs. Fugman was the sponsor this year. In addition to teaching five classes and sponsoring the S.C.A., she was there to give advice to the inexperienced staff members.

There was a newspaper this year. If you don't believe me, just ask almost any staff member, for they have the callouses to prove it.

Homemakers plan future

Headed by Mrs. Esther Reese, the F.H.A. is made up of both eighth and ninth graders who are taking a course in home economics. In 1976 the F.H.A. Chapter received a certificate for increasing its membership at the state convention.

In the past year active members have raised money for community projects, and given aid to people who need help. Its main purpose is to perfect the art of homemaking thus making better the homes of tomorrow.

Officers: Front row: C. Dickens, K. Cannady; Back row: Mrs. E. Reese, B. Hatcher, M. Massey, S. Langston.

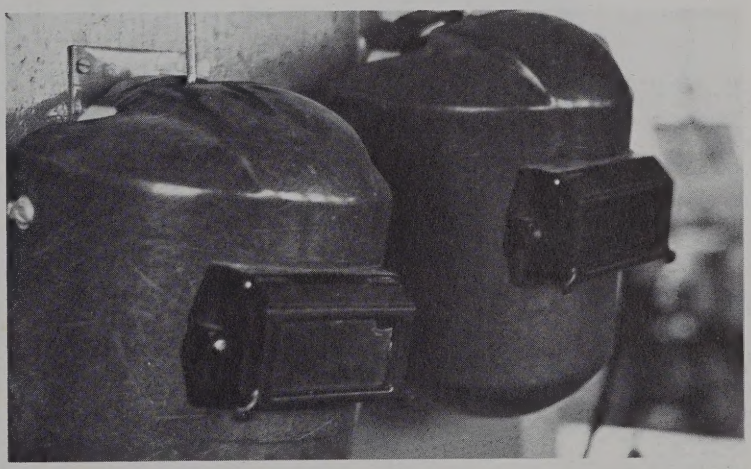
FFA—career oriented club



Mechanical knowledge is put to use in the shop.

The F.F.A. is an organization designed to teach students about the field of Agriculture. From this organization, students can decide whether or not they would like to take up a career in agriculture or another related area. The F.F.A. also helps students face new challenges with positive thinking. Another purpose of the club is to help the individual build himself by working for the good of his community and county. Mr. S. C. Harris and Mr. William Lewis, the club sponsors, work hard to help the members of the F.F.A. achieve these goals.

Club uses language out of classroom

Helping the students use the language out of the classroom is one of the goals of the Spanish club. Señora Taylor, the sponsor, has planned many activities, including the Christmas party held in her home. At this party, members of the Spanish club feasted on tacos and pizza instead of the traditional turkey and dressing. Another successful activity was their formal dinner in which the members had to prepare dishes with a Spanish origin.

Señora Taylor is very effective in getting the point across, and her pressing coaching proves to be an invaluable asset in the future studies of the language.

The choir listens attentatively while Mr. Bernick explains a new piece of music.

One of the new faces at PGJHS turned out to be Mr. Bernick, the choir director. Under his direction the choir sang at various assemblies and concerts. Their first concert of the year was the Christmas concert and another was the Spring assembly.

There are approximately a hundred members in choir fourth and fifth period, consisting mainly of eighth graders. Sixth period, composed mainly of ninth graders, makes up the PGJHS concert choir.

Creativity, talent—essentials for Art

Mrs. Pearce, sponsor of the Art Club.

Palettes, brushes, easels, and paint — these are some of the tools used by the Art Club.

This year's Art Club is sponsored again by Mrs. Hazel Pearce. When asked how she might compare this year's Art Club to last year's, she replied, "I really think that they show much more enthusiasm this year than in the past couple of years!"

Their plans included decorating the Homecoming float, and having numerous bake sales, which have been very successful. Other activities included are a candy auction, various car washes, and a couple of field trips to various places like Virginia Museum (where they hope to further their knowledge in art), King's Dominion, and also possibly to Virginia Beach.

When asked if you had to take art to join, president Elizabeth Kaempf replied, "No, this club is open to anyone and you don't have to be a Rembrandt either, because the purpose of this club is to learn more about art!"

Art club members decorated their door for the Christmas contest.

Math Club sponsor, Mrs. Carla Hastings, and Alice Lescanec prepare for another meeting.

'76-'77 adds up-good year for Math club

The Math Club is an organization for people who have a strong interest in math. Its purpose is to help students develop an interest in math fields not discussed in class.

Not only do Math Club members enjoy meetings and in school functions, but they also enjoy out of school activities, such as, the pizza parties and a trip to King's. Dominion. In the past year, the sponsors, Carla Hastings and Carolyn Williamson, have planned a different program for each meeting, such as a lesson on paper folding or various speakers.

Band — symbol of spirit and pride

From the goal line, the 10, the 20, and on to the 50 yard line, marching to the "Theme of S.W.A.T.", the PGJHS Band started off to another excellent year. With the help of many freshman bandsmen, the Junior High Band was able to fulfill the many activities of the '76-'77 school year including other halftime performances, parades, and Christmas and Spring concerts.

The Band Council is made up of Teresa Conaway (Drum Majorette), Elizabeth Payne (Assistant Drum Majorette), Mark Richmond (Band Captain), Glenda Jones (Head Majorette), and several section leaders. The Director of the Council, Mr. Richard Wray, is also the director for the P. G. Stage Band, which is made up of any Junior High and Senior High qualifying students. This busy schedule kept the marching and concert bands practicing to be near perfection throughout the past year.

Fire twirling— a first for majorettes

This has been another outstanding year for the Prince George Junior High Majorettes. After long hours of practice during the summer, the majorettes were ready for the first halftime show of football season. It was not only the first game of the season, but it also marked the first time they twirled fire as an unit. Under the direction of Mr. Richard Wray, the majorettes performed at a number of activities in addition to the football games. They were also in the Christmas and Memorial Parades, and performed in many school concerts.

FCA doubles in size from last year

The F.C.A. is made up of an unique group of individuals. The individuals are not only outstanding athletes, but they are also Christians. Under the direction of their sponsors, Terry Trickler and Linda Wall, the F.C.A. has been involved in many activities. Among these activities, the club has involved itself with such things as selling refreshments at football, basketball and baseball games, as well as collecting food for baskets at Christmas time.

The F.C.A. has scheduled speakers, rallies, assemblies and other activities to bring new faces to the club. This work has paid off in many ways, but especially when membership is concerned, because there are twenty-six new faces in F.C.A. this year.

Officers: Bottom: E. Fletcher, K. Harrison, W. Cain; Standing: V. Brooks, K. Aultman, D. Vtipil, S. Clark.

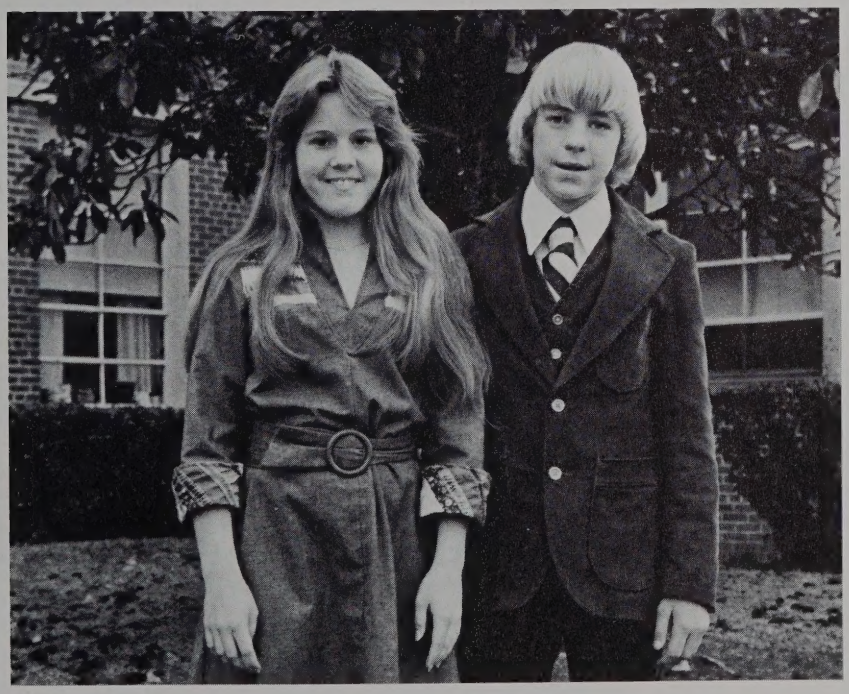
Brooks named queen—Homecoming success

Homecoming Queen, Velvet Brooks and escort, Donnie Vtipil.



Homecoming Princess, Jennifer Brace and escort, Bobby Nicol.

The suspense mounts as everyone wonders who will be the first Homecoming Queen and Princess of Prince George Junior High. Hoping to be the one chosen, each girl nervously waits to represent the school as Homecoming Queen.

Finally the time has come to announce the Princess. The band plays a fanfare as the name of excited Jennifer Brace is called over the P.A. system. Then the moment we have all been waiting for, the announcement of the Queen. The band plays a second fanfare, and Velvet Brooks is proclaimed the first Homecoming Queen of PGJHS for the 1976-'77 school year. With their escorts, Donny Vtipil and Bobby Nicol, they proudly paraded to the grandstand for their crowning as Queen and Princess. Through the S.C.A.'s sponsorship the Prince George Junior High had its first Homecoming this year. All the clubs and organizations in the school were asked to sponsor two girls, a ninth grader for Queen and an eighth grader for Princess. During homeroom the student body voted for the girl they thought best to represent the school for the Homecoming celebration.

The celebration consisted of a football game, floats, decorations, the band, and a spirit like you wouldn't believe. To top it all off, there was our first Homecoming Dance, which was enjoyed by all.

Homecoming court anxiously awaits the announcement of the queen and princess.

ATHLETICS

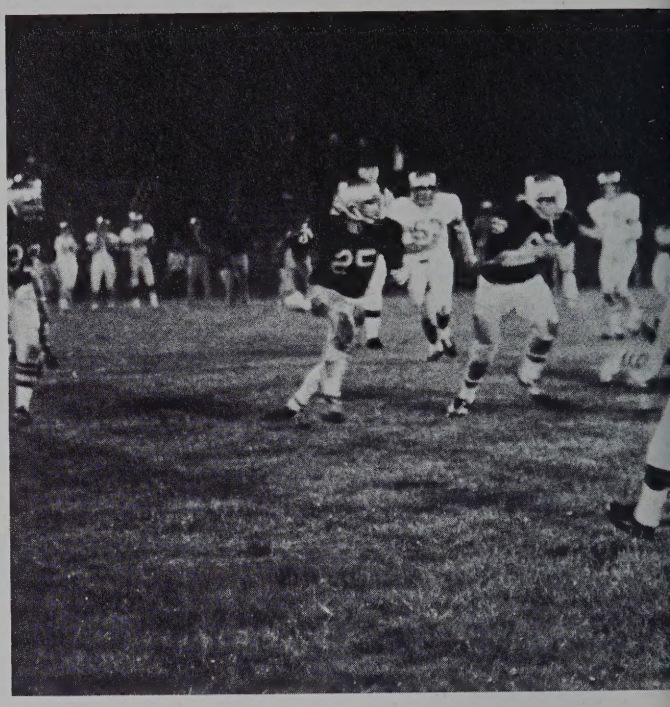
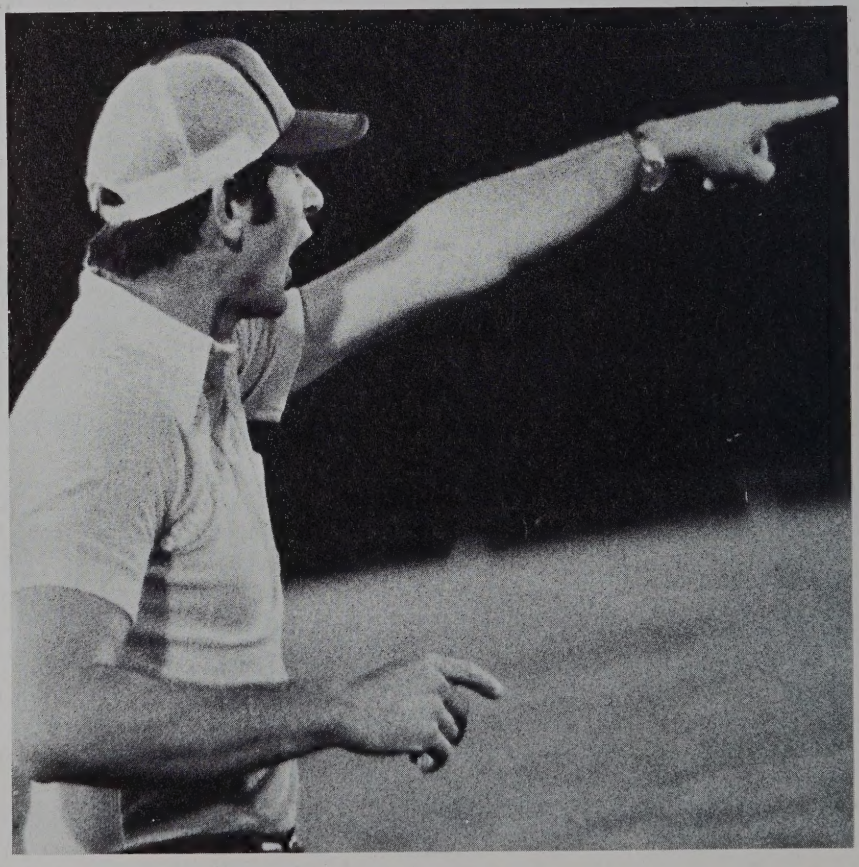
Our strong Royals defense, succeeds in stopping the opposing offense.



Genuine effort exerted by Baby Royals

Coach Wisneski shouts plays from the sidelines.



The Junior Varsity football team got off to a good start with a "come-from-behind" win over a very capable Dinwiddie team, the final score being 14-6.

Although they got off to a stable start, the team was unable to continue a winning streak because of injuries and ended the season with a disappointing record of 1-3-2.

Even though they ended with a losing season, the team was much better than the record reflected. Plagued with injuries from the start, their 'would-be' successful year was hindered. However, they 'stuck it out' and never admitted defeat.

At times the coaches, Ed Wisneski and Bill Barnes, became displeased with the play of the Royals, but they did not lose their confidence in the team and served as a form of guidance and motivation. In fact, when interviewed, Coach Wisneski was quoted as saying, "These are the best bunch of guys I have ever coached."

A score puts the Royal kickoff team back into action.

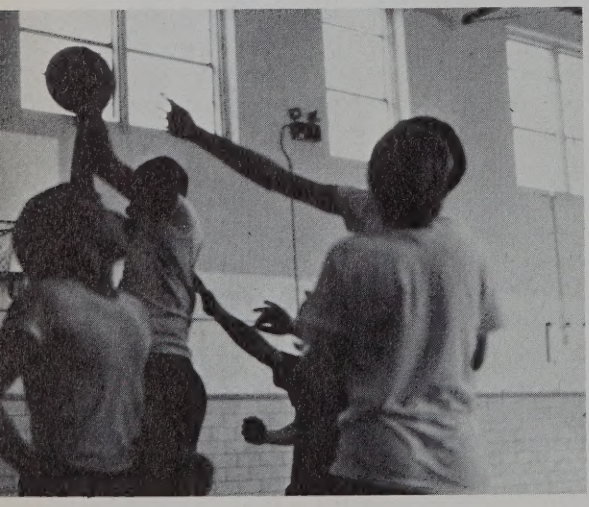
Team tries for another championship

Baby Royals look on while Alan Bartolich jumps his opponent for a basket.

Time is running out, and the other team is winning by one point. They take a shot, and it just rolls around the rim to end up in the hands of a Baby Royal. This is our last chance. He must make it, but there are only 10 seconds left. The clock is running down, 5 seconds left, 4 seconds, 3 seconds . . . He shoots, and "Swoosh" — the ball goes through just as the buzzer sounds, and the eighth grade Royals win again.

The team is off to a good start this year. Coach William Barnes said, "We've had so many games postponed, it's hard for the players and coaches to keep any continuity." But it doesn't seem to be hurting the team. Coach Barnes calls the players "a super group of young men that are working hard for something they want," — to make PGJHS number one! It really shows in the way they play. With the aid of assistant coach, Mr. Thomas, the team is off to an encouraging year.

When asked who their hardest game would be against, Peabody quickly came out. However they were confident of a win. The game they are looking forward to the most is the tournament at the end of the year, and as the coach said, "We're looking forward to another tournament championship." With this year's team, it looks as though they are going to do it!



Hard work and much practice proved to be invaluable for the success of the Royals.

First row: D. Williamson, T. Davis, T. Fisher, A. Bartolich; Second row: T. Goodwyn, J. Agnor, J. Robertson, J. Ward, R. Hunt, T. Linton, B. Waycaster, B. Taylor, J. Bardy; Third row: Coach Bill Barnes, S. Plourd, R. Docx, M. Green, K. Mosteller, C. James, F. Peete, C. Kirk, E. Crafton.

J.V. tries to make '76-'77 successful

Captain: R. Jefferson; First row: K. Linton, G. Taylor, A. Roach, D. Vtipil; Second row: H. Rivers, M. Rose, A. Taylor, F. Williams, R. Thweat, F. Ford, D. Bowersox, M. Pleasant, O. Coleman, P. Waller, C. Lichvar, Coach Terry Trickler.

In December, the J.V. basketball team once again took to the floor with hopes of avenging last season's record. They set out to prove that they could be as tough and successful as any other team, and to prove to themselves that they were a good team. To be a good team they knew that winning was essential, and the "Royals" did it. Sometimes the team got into difficult situations, but they never quit.

Although the team did not have as much height as in previous years, hard work and a lot of hustle proved to be successful. The team was made up of experienced ball handlers who knew the basics — shooting, rebounding, and how to play a good defense. By using their techniques and basics, and most importantly, their strong desire to win, the J.V. team somewhat improved their record from last year's "unsuccess."

Girls' Basketball—number 1

It was a hot August day when selected girls showed up to begin their first practice together. Little did the Baby Royals know, but that at the end of the season they would be on top and the girls would reach their ultimate goals.

The most important games in the girls' hearts would both be against Dinwiddie. It took all the desire and enthusiasm the Baby Royals had to produce the squeaking win over the "Generals" by one point. In the second game against Dinwiddie, the Royals attained first place and went on to beat them, 43-17. When asked what the most memorable accomplishment of the season was, Coach Linda Wall replied, "When the girls were down, they never gave up. They always seemed to reach deep down and pull out a strong, second effort."

The leading scorers for the season of play were Kathy Cain and Karen Christenson. Tammy Hunt proved to be the top rebounder for the Baby Royals. The team ended the season with an 8-2 record and were also the Central District Champions.

They're in the gates, the suspense is mounting, each one of them realizes that, in seconds, the race will start and the winner will be decided. They're ready and waiting. The judge raises the gun, and then "BANG"! The race begins. What is it, a horse race? No, it's the Prince George Track Team off to another win.

That's what it's like everytime the Prince George Team gets ready for the start of a race. It's the worry, the waiting, and most of all, the excitement of doing it all over again. It's the trying, the struggling, the sweating, and in most cases this year, it was the winning.

The runners from the junior high and Coach Larry Springer all agreed that this was a great year. They all seemed to agree that their hardest meet was against Highland Springs, which they won by 26 to 29 (in cross-country the lowest score wins). Their biggest accomplishment was, no doubt, winning the Junior Varsity Division of the Regional Meet, on November 13, 1976, in Richmond. In this event Wayne Finley placed second, helping the team tremendously. This was a great year, with the team winning 6 and losing only 3.

Coach Springer spoke highly of the four junior high members of the team. He said they put forth their best effort and helped the team greatly to a successful season. The members were Wayne Finley, Jim Browning, Melody Creggar, and Mike Basham. Jim Browning and Wayne Finley both received Varsity letters.

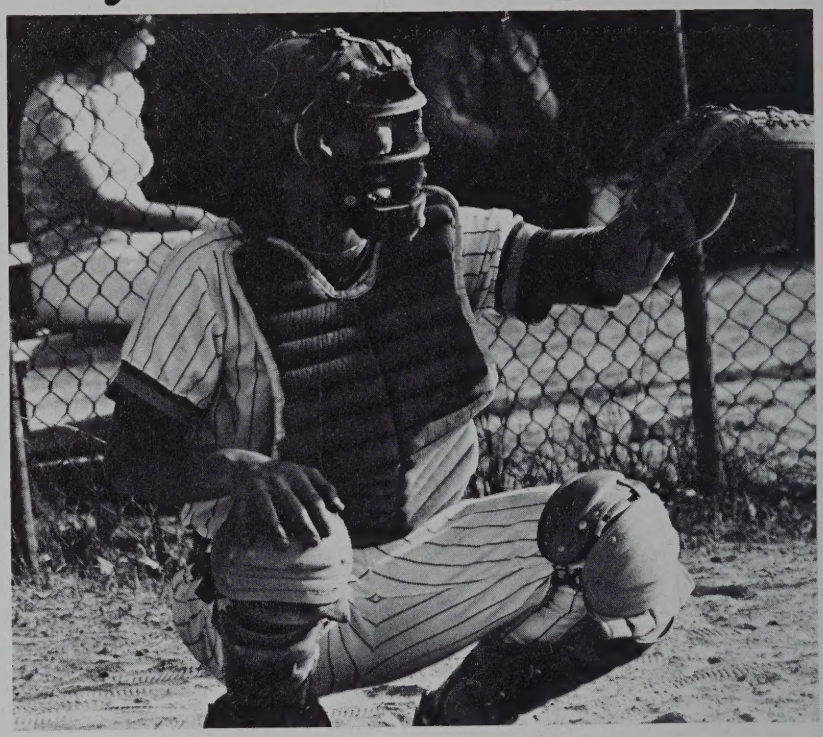
All in all, this year's record, team, and sportsmanship were the very best. As for their determination and ability, well, let their record speak for itself.

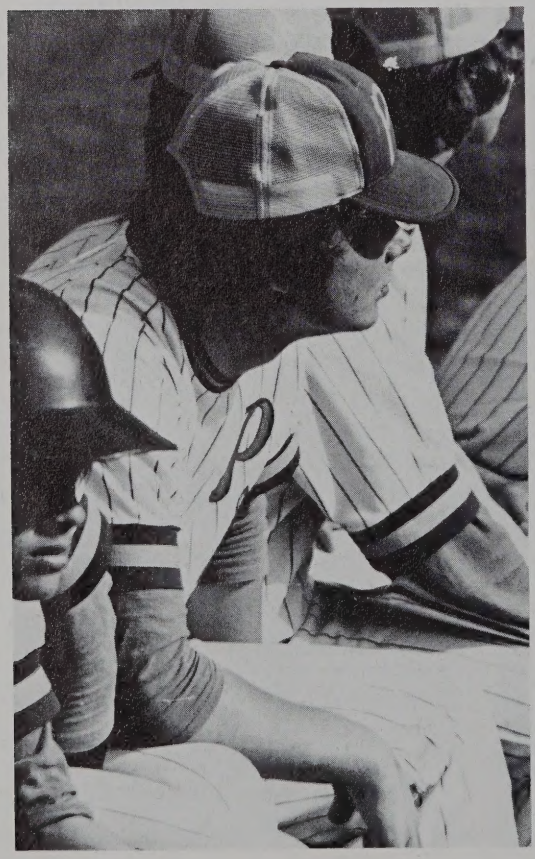
Desire directs Royals to winning season

Even though they lost the season opener to Manchester, the J.V. baseball team was "fired up" and put it all together, resulting in another well-played season of 9 wins and 5 losses. It was a team made up of experienced ball players who could pitch, hit, and field, the basics a team should perform well to have a winning season.

The team members and coach had one thing in common, the desire to win and be successful. In order to fulfill their desires, the team had to work hard for long hours. Whenever they happened to fall behind, they struggled and fought harder to get themselves back to the top.

Each team member knew that the key to success was to have a positive attitude about winning. Never did the team, though, let winning go to their heads. The "Royals" proved that hard work and strong beliefs was the only way to win.





Intensity of the game is reflected upon the team's faces.

Pitcher, Steve Seal, winds up to throw another strike.

Softball ends with 7-3 record

Sweatsuits, jackets, worn-out tennis shoes, and softball gloves seemed to be a familiar scene of the girls' softball team hitting the practice field again. With a tough schedule ahead of them, the girls knew that they would have to buckle down and get ready for the hard work to come.

The Baby Royals were to play junior varsity teams as well as varsity teams. Coach Linda Wall prepared the girls well. Although they lost their first game to Emporia, it did not discourage them. The Baby Royals gathered momentum and ended the season with a 7-3 record. Two of those wins were against their arch rival, the Dinwiddie Generals. Kathy Cain, the girls' leading batter, ended the season with a .514 average.

Coach Wall has answered many prayers for the girls at PGJHS by becoming a girl's softball and basketball coach as well as a physical education teacher. The girls are willing to work hard and struggle so they can participate in sports just like the boys. They, too, want to become a part of the faces of sports at PGJHS.

Faces of SPIRIT

After two weeks of hard work and learning cheers, more than twenty girls were ready for try outs to see which twelve would become the new intermediate cheerleaders. All the girls were nervous and excited. In spite of it, they all did their best and after careful consideration, the judges named the new intermediate squad.

Now that the new squad had been selected, the cheerleaders worked hard both practicing and cheering for the eighth grade basketball team. During all their hours of practice, Mrs. Eleanor Jones, sponsor, worked with the girls helping them prepare for each game.

For the spirited students of PGJHS who want to become a part of the "encouragement", there is the Pep Club. Headed by Mrs. Evangline Wright, the Pep Club's main purposes are to promote the spirits of the student body and to eliminate school apathy.

In the past year the Pep Club maintained school spirit by continuing to cheer on the "Baby Royals" at pep rallies and games. In the stands one could hear the chants of pepsters and loyal Royals cheering on their team with cries of "Burn 'em up Royals!!!"

Out of the silent junior high students came the confident voices of the J.V. Cheerleaders, trying to squeeze the positive attitude out of the Royal's spectators — the positive attitude they were sure to have — and the attitude needed to cheer our players to victory.

Of course, they went through a lot getting there. Finally reaching perfection, they passed Intermediate and grew into Junior Varsity Cheerleaders. When they took on the responsibility they were sure to be getting, they were all willing to practice hard, make posters, grant favors, and work on new routines learned in two weeks at cheerleading camp. Now they were ready to take on their first foe.

Mrs. Freeman, their sponsor, who also teaches science, helped make new uniforms, organize bake sales and car washes, and managed to be there whenever they needed her.

Pep Club cheers along with the J.V. Cheerleaders.

Pep Club shows enthusiastic ability by cheering at a rally.

J.V. Cheerleader, Jamie Davis watches the action on the court.

A display of friendship takes place at halftime.

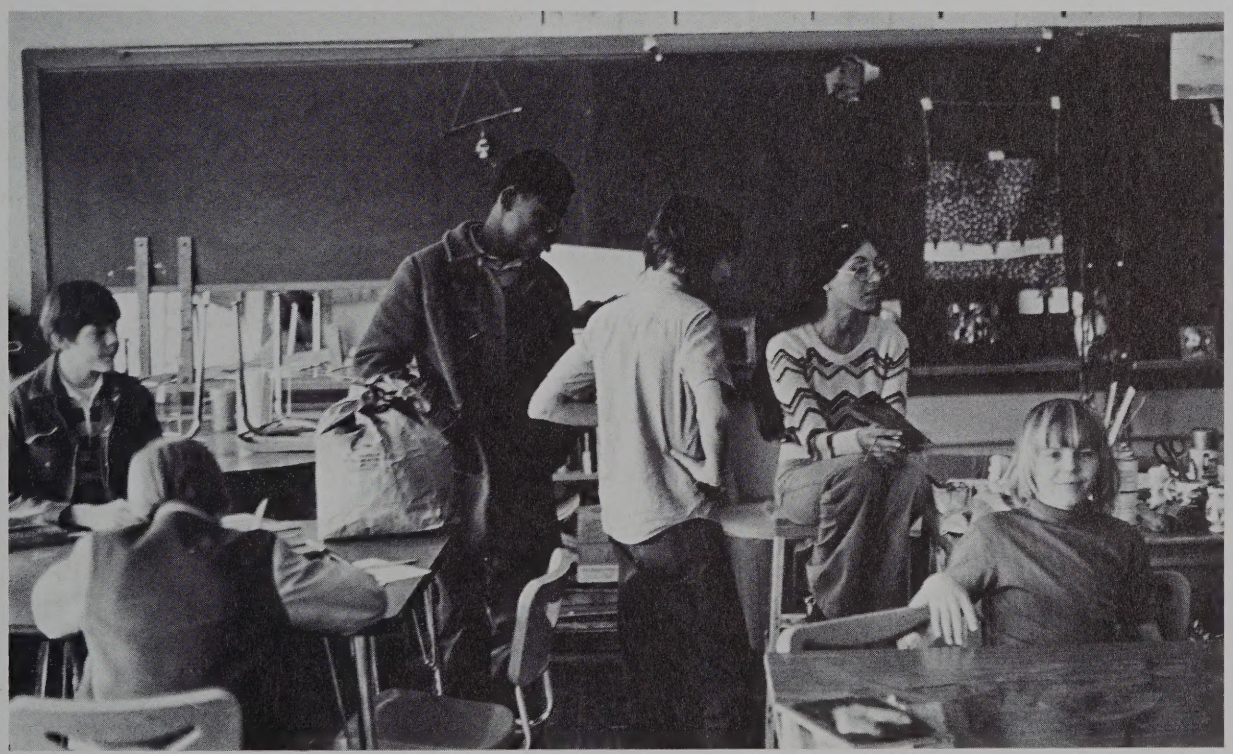
CLASSES



Freshmen face new responsibilities

When the new freshmen entered the junior high on August 30, 1976 to start a new year in the ninth grade, they were faced with unfamiliar teachers, harder subjects, and a new principal, Mr. John Tiller. They were also faced with the problems of changing schedules and adjusting to a heavier work load.

Now last year's eighth graders were this year's freshmen and they had become familiar with the school and activities. A ninth grader can achieve success by combining his efforts with the faculty's. For some, the subject may be too boring, or it may be too much of a good day to be wasted behind a desk, but in the future, ninth graders will look back in remembrance of the faces of the school and say, "The education was worth it all."

Concentration—another attribute of ninth graders.

Confusion marks beginning

As August approaches PGJHS opens the doors for the first time to await the newly acquired eighth graders and the familiar faces of the freshmen. The first day the eighth graders cringed at the thought of going to classes and meeting new teachers. Throughout the school one could hear the cries of dismayed students. "Where is room 120?" "When do I eat lunch?" "How do I know where to go?"

The first day the confused eighth graders received help from teachers, other students, and the administration.

The first week of school was confusing and frustrating for the eighth graders. However, now they are familiar with the faculty, other students, and the school itself. Now they feel right at "home."

During the year some of the more athletic eighth graders have participated in such sports as football or basketball. Some joined their favorite clubs and others ran for officers of the student body.

Although the beginning proved confusing, the eighth graders have become a big part of the faces of PGJHS. At the end of the year, freshmen will become sophomores and eighth graders will become freshmen, only to start the cycle of confusion once again.

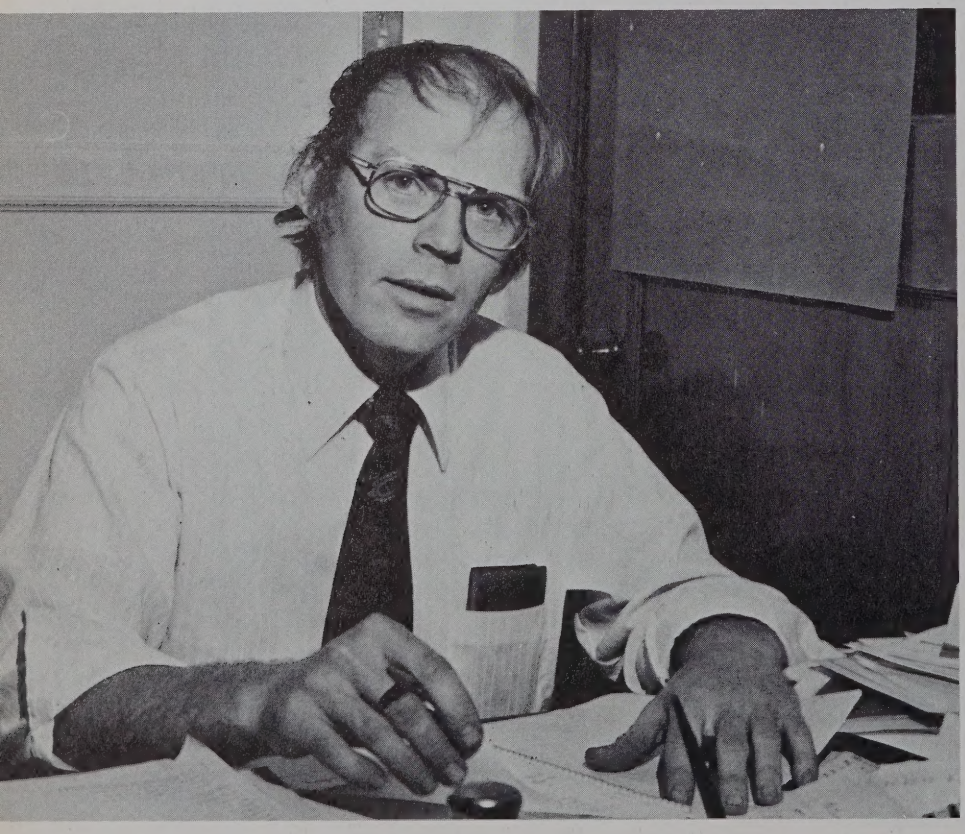
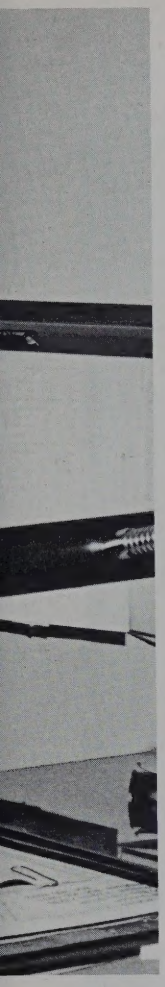
John P. Tiller

Hugh G. Mumford



Sylvia O. Massey



J. P. Tiller, Jr. came to PGJHS this year filled with hopes, plans and ideas. His enthusiasm for student participation and desire for open communication have not waned. This year has been a difficult one of changes, adjustments, and re-arranged plans, but he looks forward to next year with beliefs undiminished.

Hugh Mumford, vice-principal, combines organization of adult education, school buses, and faculty supervision to make his one of the busiest of human beings. Hubert Payne, is vice-principal, athletic director, and discoverer of the Fountain of Youth. His vast and varied experience have only whetted his interest in youth and he is always willing to share his knowledge. Sylvia Massey is secretary in the main office and trouble-shooter for anyone, whenever possible. Cheryl Zuskin combines secretarial duties, bookkeeping, and running the school store.

PRINCE GEORGE JR
HIGH SCHOOL

Face of dedication—William Barnes

All teachers must be certified by the State in which they teach and must be qualified in the subject matter they are assigned. They are periodically evaluated as to the quality of their work.

Once in a very great while an individual appears who meets these qualifications—and appears to consider them to be the bare minimum.

We have such a person with us. Prince George Junior High appears to be his second home.

Therefore:

For his academic competence
his interest in professional organizations his sponsorship of athletics his work with student organizations his recognition of sincere efforts his over-all dedication to the students at this school, we are both proud and happy to be able to dedicate this annual to — Mr. William Barnes.

A salute to the Gold Medallion

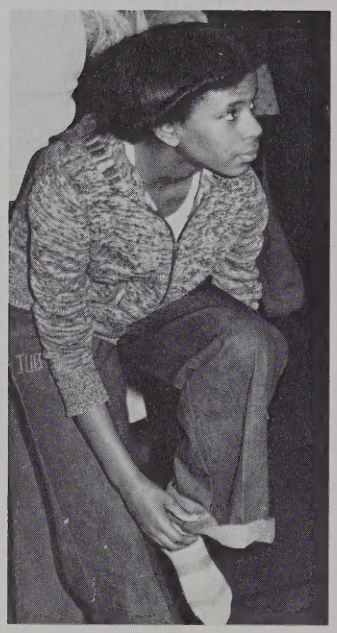
As the deadline approaches, tempers flare, voices are raised, and problems seem to pile up. For the 1976-77 yearbook staff it was no different. Since our "yearbook office" was also a classroom, trying to work during school proved to be almost impossible. With little time left before the deadline, we plunged into the world of drawing layouts, writing body copy, cropping pictures, and setting headlines.

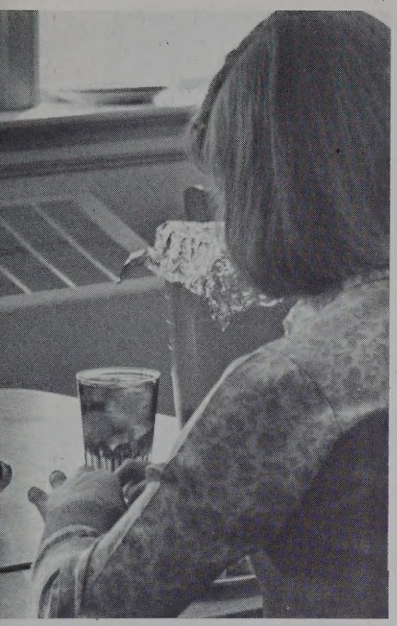
Now, as we complete the GOLD MEDALLION, we can relax and reflect upon the many people that helped to make this yearbook possible. The first person that comes to mind is Jay Danko. When we needed help the most, he came to our aid with his camera and photographic skill, and "shot" the faces of PGJHS and its surroundings. We would also wish to thank those faculty members and administration for their endless, and much appreciated help. For Mrs. Mildred Fugman for her assistance with faculty and body copy. For Miss Becky Hapstack for her unending help in our time of need. She wrote and re-wrote copy, "thought up" headlines and captions, and most of all, helped to relieve tension. Also, thanks to Miss Jenny Pulley and Miss Pam Highsmith who sat through a tiring day correcting our body copy. Special thanks are directed toward all of our teachers who listened to our pleas and consented to let us work on the yearbook. Without their help and understanding, the publication of the yearbook would not have been possible. Also to Mr. Dwight Saine who sat through sessions with us and explained the "Delmar Way". He stuck with us and assisted us in our times of need.

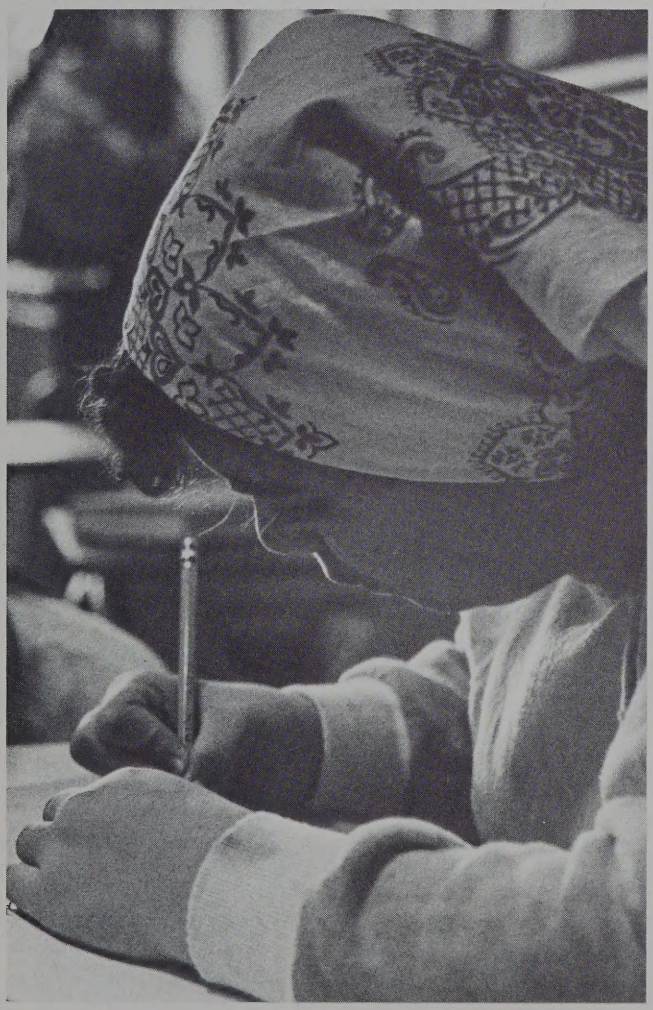
Our final thanks must go to Miss Elizabeth Reese, our advisor, who even though it was her first year at PGJHS, came to our assistance and agreed to take over the GOLD MEDALLION. She helped to calm our nerves, nourished us with pizza and hamburgers, and "picked" us up when we were down.

When we look back in the years to come, we will have the feeling of great accomplishment. For those that follow us we hope that the same feeling of accomplishment will be felt.

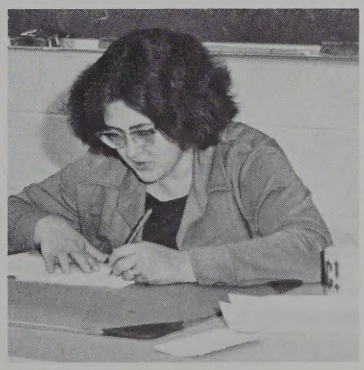
Paula







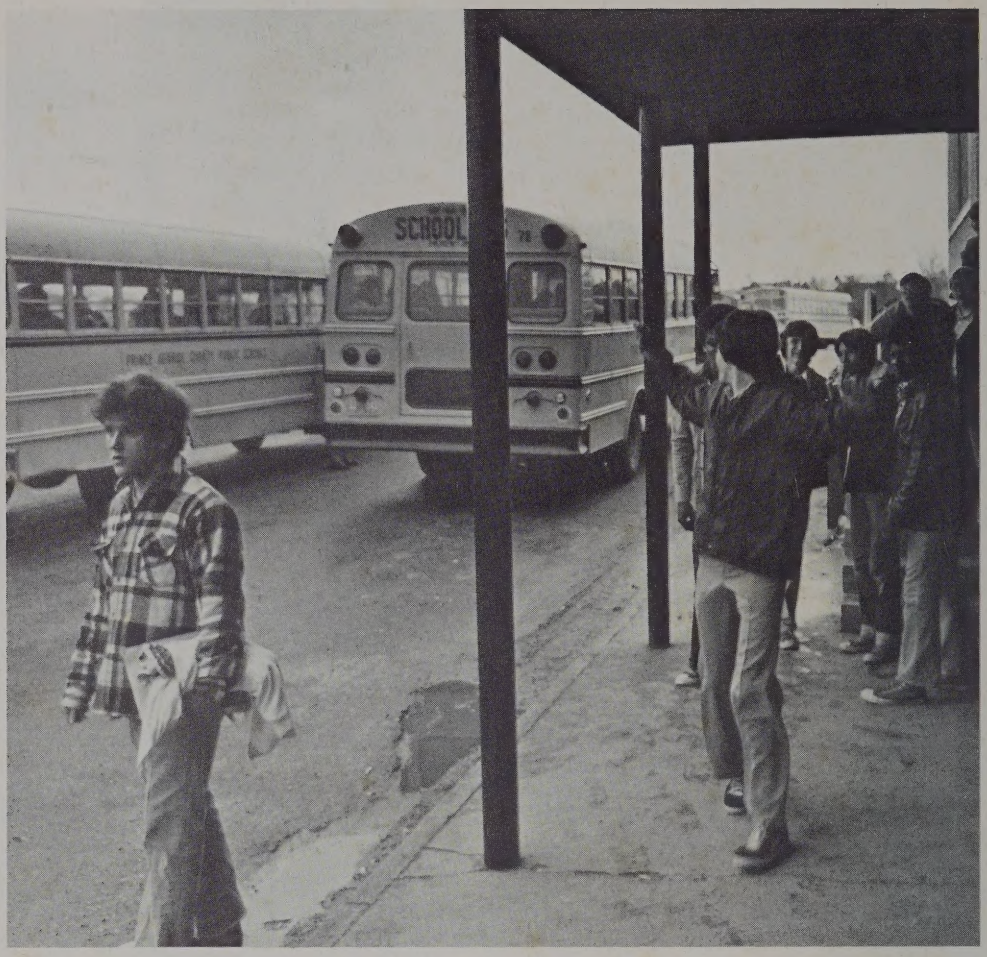
Facets of faces



Take one last look

Prince George Junior High School has seen many changes since its construction, and this year completes another segment of its history. After this year, it is hoped students will no longer be over crowded, teachers will cease to "float" from class to class, and there will be time and space for those extra curricular activities, so helpful and meaningful to students. In spite of its faults, however, or many because of them, it has become a part of you, because for these years, you like so many before you were a part of the school.

You will move forward, and the little school next to the cornfield will seem unimportant as the new high school with all its promise opens and new worlds reach out to you—but pause again. Ponder the people—ponder the past. Follow the faces—and face the future.



Follow the faces . . .
